Los Angeles Vein Treatment

Spring has arrived in all its glory: colorful flowers, bright green grass, and Spring fashion. Yes, it is once again time to put away your winter parkas and ski pants and get ready to don warm weather clothing for Spring and Summer. Shorts, skirts and bathing suit season also mean that it is time to show off your legs. If you have spent past summers covering up your legs due to unsightly varicose and spider veins, now is the time to invest in yourself and your health.

Instead of suffering with unsightly, painful leg veins, people can have laser vein removal treatments to permanently eliminate them. Creams, cover-ups and lotions only hide varicose and spider veins; at best, they attempt to treat them from the surface. Since varicose and spider veins are deep beneath the skin, these treatments cannot properly address the cause of the issue. Laser vein removal involves highly targeted lasers that obliterate the faulty vein, causing it to permanently close up and fade away. Both spider veins and varicose veins on the legs can be successfully, painlessly treated with lasers. In most cases only one laser treatment is necessary for permanent vein removal; the process is highly effective and achieves impressive results for patients.

The bulging appearance of varicose veins, as well as all spider veins, will immediately improve in appearance upon treatment. Though the vein closes immediately, it takes about a month or two for large varicose veins to completely fade away. This leaves patients with smooth, beautiful legs for the Spring and Summer, ready to flaunt their gams in bathing suits, skirts, dresses and shorts. More importantly, since varicose veins can cause dangerous health complications, patients will leave with a healthier body and a peace of mind as well as beautiful legs.
